ABOUT MTI

MTI has experience developing has over 20 years of developing effective leaders and leading large-scale transformation efforts as a consultant. Since the inception of MTI Inc, Monica has continued to develop leaders through training, coaching and strategic planning.

THE CHALLENGE

Often organizations promote employees to leadership and management positions, but they are not fully equipped to lead effectively. MTI's leadership development and training programs are designed to provide the necessary tools to create effective leadership within organizations and to assist in the continued development of them within government agencies.

THE SOLUTION

MTI provides skills to new and existing managers to develop them into leaders. MTI develops leaders through teaching them conflict resolution, communication skills, employee motivation, aligning leadership with the mission and values of the agency, and much more. MTI also conducts assessments for leaders to determine current leadership capacity as well as how to enhance and use that particular style to interact with others within the organization. Ultimately, MTI works to enhance the skills of leaders to help them reach their highest potential.
